Biodiversity net gain

Paragraph 13 of Schedule 7A of the Town and Country Planning Act 1990 sets out that every planning permission granted for the development of land in England shall be deemed to have been granted subject to the 'biodiversity gain condition' requiring development to achieve a net gain of 10% of biodiversity value.

This is subject to exemptions, an exemption applies in relation to planning permission for a development which is the subject of a householder application, within the meaning of article 2(1) of the Town and Country Planning (Development Management Procedure) (England) Order (2015)*.

Applicants for planning permission are required to make a statement as to whether they believe the biodiversity gain condition will apply if permission is granted, please confirm:

☒ It is my belief that if permission is granted for the development to which this application relates the biodiversity gain condition would not apply

*A 'householder application' means an application for planning permission for development for an existing dwellinghouse, or development within the curtilage of such a dwellinghouse for any purpose incidental to the enjoyment of the dwellinghouse which is not an application for change of use or an application to change the number of dwellings in a building.

Site visit undertaken: 07/02/2025.

I see little issue with the envisaged project at this stage.

Whilst Oak Cottage is within the grounds and part of the collection of estate buildings to Brinsop Court, the building has no direct line of sight to Grade I Brinsop Court. It has potential to be viewed on approach from the lane, however this is quite minimal and I am not concerned of it becoming overly obtrusive at this time.

The project is seen to work with the existing constraints of the cottage, and would not be seen as overdevelopment. It appears to be reflective of the existing form and scale of the existing conditions.

The alterations look to be a practical solution to meet the needs of the applicant whilst providing some enhancement to the building. Appropriate finishing and facing materials, surface finishes including type and colour, and joinery types for replacement windows and or doors should be well considered to ensure a harmonious pairing between new and existing.

Authority Employee/Member

With respect to the Authority, is the applicant and/or agent one of the following:

(a) a member of staff

(b) an elected member

(c) related to a member of staff

(d) related to an elected member

It is an important principle of decision-making that the process is open and transparent.

For the purposes of this question, "related to" means related, by birth or otherwise, closely enough that a fair-minded and informed observer, having considered the facts, would conclude that there was bias on the part of the decision-maker in the Local Planning Authority.

Do any of the above statements apply?

☒ No
