Comment On behalf of Hereford Civic Society - The view of HCS is that this planning application is not a positive addition to the Hereford built environment. A disproportionally large pool room appears to be tacked onto the house, incorporating large ungainly roofs. There appears to be no local reference, no attention to passive environmental issues, and no respect to neighbouring properties. The Society believes that Herefordshire Council has a responsibility to work to current thinking on design issues. Good building design in the 21st century is now, at last, incorporating the attributes highlighted above.
