Nature of feedback: Objecting to the application

Comment: This site already has a new development adjacent which addresses human need for housing. To add to this is an imbalance with the need to protect the important habitat of vulnerable other species which have a right to existence. For the humans also will be lost a beautiful walk of tranquility, wondrous views of nature and a sense of wellbeing may be lost forever. I don't believe the local roads can accommodate more resultant traffic either and this adds to the detriment of the wider community.
