Comment: I was born in the village and known it all life. As a parent of a young family, I am acutely aware of the struggles in finding affordable and quality housing. It is a national crisis. I see this as an excellent opportunity for young families to settle in a rural environment in reasonably priced, new houses. The plan shows generous plot sizes which is harder to come by these days in comparable developments. The site is currently under utilised, has no agricultural benefits and sits amongst current housings so simply represents infill. [REDACTED]
